About the course: Italian 102 is a course for beginning students of the Italian language. After successful completion of this course, students may take ITAL 201, 202, 205, 300, 320, 330, and 391 here or in Perugia (Italy) to complete the requirement for Italian Minor. Elementary Italian is taught in Italian.

Class attendance is mandatory and will be marked every day. Regular attendance and participation in class activities are essential for learning a foreign language. In order to make progress in understanding and speaking Italian, students must hear and speak it on a daily basis. Therefore, prepare carefully for class by completing all assignments in advance, and be ready to participate in class. If you have been absent, contact a classmate to find out the assignments that you missed.

The number of absences, either excused or unexcused, must not exceed 5 absences for classes meeting 5 times per week. Instructors ARE NOT REQUIRED to give reminders of attendance status to each student.

Homework. Students are expected to spend at least four (4) hours (per credit) doing homework. Homework will be regularly assigned and corrected in class. Late assignments will not receive a grade. Students should find out about assigned homework given in a day that they have been absent.

Partecipation. Students receive a grade for participation based on their in-class interaction with other class members and with the instructor and their willingness to speak Italian as much as possible.

Quizzes. Vocabulary, grammar, spelling exercises, compositions and culture will be tested. There will be a quiz every week and the final test at the end of the semester.

Make-up quizzes and tests are not allowed.

Compositions. Three compositions will be assigned during the semester. The instructor will mark the mistakes in the rough compositions (first draft), but he/she will not provide the exact correction: students must find the error. The rewritten composition (final draft) will be graded and the mistakes will be explained.

Oral presentation. Students will work in group of three or four to perform an oral presentation for their classmates at the end of the semester. The date of the performance will be given you during the month of October by the Instructor. First each group will select and discuss the topic with the instructor. Then students can work on the chosen subject and make an oral presentation (not a reading presentation). Each student will be graded based on the vocabulary and pronunciation of the performance. Again, no reading from a script, please.

Final exam : The final exam will cover all the grammar, vocabulary and culture topics that have been taught in class during the semester. The final exam date is Wednesday, December 12th from 8:00am to 10:50am in regular meeting room.
